

BETTING ODDS ON YALE DROP POINT; 10 TO 9

Enthusiasm increased to a high point and became greater than ever before on the day previous to the big game. Vast crowds of visitors poured into Boston. They began to fill the hotels early in the day.

FISH PLAY? WELL JUST WATCH HIM

Ham Fish will play. Ham Fish will not play. Ham Fish has a twisted cartilage. He hasn't. Ham Fish has a blood clot on his lung. No such thing. Gents, the little pea is under the shell and if you know what is the matter with Ham Fish or isn't the matter with him, you

You may have noticed that it is always the star player who has the coupon (thumb or the housewife's knee). You never hear anything about the poor old ordinary stone-wall boys being out of gear. It is always Princeton money. Who knows? But when the Yale team took the field a large blonde person with the ball folded to his forty-seven-inch chest came tearing across the Football in a snow storm!

That's a possibility for to-morrow. A genuine, old-fashioned snow storm swooped down on Buffalo and Pittsburgh early today. In Buffalo the downfall was so thick that the streets were almost impassable.

One thing's sure, the Harvard coaches and backers don't want to see much rain or snow. It might help Yale for Yale's side is heavier than Harvard's.

THOMAS RUMOR

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Society gossip has been coupling the names of Ralph Thomas, nephew of Washington H. Thomas of Boston, president of the Sugar Trust, and the body of the boy sent here, if he is dead. We hope the government can help us to get it.

Mrs. Cannon said that she had received no word from her son stating that he had taken part in any revolutionary movement, and was contained in other letters received here by school friends. These letters came from Honduras, and stated that Can-age off the city streets, the French Luge Company of No. 92 Summer street—one of the oldest vehicle building concerns in Boston—today was the victim of a bankruptcy suit. Its liabilities to the creditors of the company, on the petition of three creditors with claims aggregating $19,000, will go to the Federal court today with great success and today the fund placed at $62,102. The time limit expires Thanksgiving Day. General Secretary H. T. 2 big N. Y. Manufacturers, W. L. Marrus & Co., 580 Broadway, Max Davidson & Sons, 85 Bleecker St. Sell us their entire surplus production at prices that average 50c on the dollar.

Clothing manufacturers all over the country have been hard hit this season. Naturally anticipating the usual November "cold snap," they made up extra large stocks of overcoats and suits.

The cold snap failed to materialize and they have been left with big surplus stocks on hand, to either dispose of at a sacrifice, or carry over to another year.

Prefering to turn their stocks into cash, even if they had to take a loss in doing so, Marrus & Co. and Davidson & Sons have closed their entire stocks to us at practically our own figures.

All these goods were made for this season's business. There are hundreds of styles in all sizes to fit all builds of men. The sale begins this morning at 8:30 o'clock.

NO RUSEAU, SAYS COUSIN, OF RUSSELL

The first cousin of Jeanne's father today positively declared that Daniel Blake Russell, the claimant to half of the Boston estate left by Daniel Russell's wife, was not Ruseau, as he is claimed to be by the lawyers for William C. Russell.

The Ruseau is Joseph Ruseau. He was the first of several who arrived from New York last night, and who will take the witness stand to prove the testimony of forced by many members of the Russell family in the case.

Joseph Ruseau today testified that he was the first of the Russell boys and that he was in the city in 1871. He was then called to the stand by the lawyers for William C. Russell.

Attorney Morgan for Russell then called the witness to the stand. Ruseau testified that he was the first of the Russell boys and that he was in the city in 1871. He was then called to the stand by the lawyers for William C. Russell.

SCHOOL GIRL DIES AT DESK

LOWELL, Nov. 19.—While Miss Mary A. Shanley, a pretty high school girl, was beginning her studies at the school today, she fell forward, her head on her desk, and died. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shanley, her father being a wealthy retired merchant and one of the best known men in Lowell. She left her home at No. 26 Phillips street yesterday in the best of health. She went to school No. 20 and was reading one of her books at 8.30, when her teacher and fellow-pupils saw her fall forward.

The room was immediately in confusion, but the teacher retained her presence of mind and quickly applied restoratives, while others sent for Mrs. John H. Lantry and Dr. J. H. Pillsbury. The physicians arrived at 9.15 minutes, but saw at once that the girl was dead. They said that heart failure was the cause.

The Thanksgiving dinner contest closes tomorrow night, and the names of the winners will be published in the SUNDAY AMERICAN. If you are going to enter your menu, you must do so by 8 o'clock.

What's the best dinner for six persons that can be furnished for $5.00? That's the question.

The AMERICAN offers $25 in prizes of $10, $5 and $1 for the best New England Thanksgiving dinner menu of five persons. There are few rules to the contest.

The title of the menu must be announced on a card for a family of six, and must not exceed 250 words as a total cost.

Prizes must, of course, be included.

Send your letters giving the best bills of fare you can prepare for the prize. Write only on one side of the paper and as clearly as possible. Also, don't put pins in your letters.

Send your letters to the Thanksgiving Editor, BOSTON AMERICAN, Boston.

Mer are some of the latest entries:

JOE WALCOTT'S KID BROTHER TO FIGHT HERE

TO FIGHT HERE

Another brother of the famous ex-convict-turned-champion Jack Walcott, will enter action Monday night at the National A. C. This brother of the ex-giant killer is named Chester. Chester is a lightweight and his big brother has had him under cover for some time, fearing his big brother would ruin his career in the game. The lad is about eighteen; built something after the style of Joe, and is said to be very promising.

The ex-giant killer thinks Chester will start right here and make as good a reputation as the "Black Demon" made for himself. Jimmy Lyons of Cambridge is the boy who will try out Chester, and as the boy from the University City

For Chester should be thorough. This will be one of the preliminaries to the DeMott-O'Brien contest, which is creating as much talk as the local boxing fans. It is rumored that Freddie O'Brien has studied a match on the North East Italian. Freddie has been conditioning daily with his first meeting at Lawrence and he and his admirers are confident that he will turn the tables in his favor this time. DeMott is now at Lawrence and he has in a long time, Eddie Shevlin, Young Donahue and Tommy Hall are assisting him.

It is rumored that Freddie O'Brien has staked a march on the North End Italian. Freddie has been conditioning Kelly ever since he took over at Lawrence and he and his admirers are confident that he will turn the tables in his favor this time. fought one of the fastest and most scenic twelve-round bouts ever seen in this city, before the Eddy Cycle and Athletic Club. There was much difference of opinion among the audience as a result of the decision in favor of Martin, and the crowd cheered Sawyer wildly as he left the ring after the contest.

Musical at Sargent Mansion Planned for Virginia Wainwright

By ELIZABETH ELLIOTT.

One of the most interesting musical events of the coming week will be the musical for Mrs. Virginia Wainwright. One of the most interesting debutantes of the season will be the star attraction.

Mrs. Wainwright is one of the most accomplished pianists of her age in society. Of course, much interest is felt in this, her musical debut.

Mrs. Wainwright is the daughter of Mrs. Grace Hall Wainwright of Commonwealth avenue, and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Wainwright. Miss Edith Jewett is to play the violin at the musicale.

Among the well known society women patronesses are Mrs. Ellen Draper, Mrs. Lucian M. Sargent, Mrs. Belmont Parsons, Mrs. Mary E. Haskett, Mrs. L. C. Curren, Mrs. Frank E. Zerklin, Mrs. S. Parkman Blake, Mrs. Julia B. Jones, Mrs. Sullivan A. Sargent, Mrs. William L. Edwards, Mrs. Frederick A. Whitwell, Miss Rodman, Mrs. Charles T. Lowrey, Mrs. Daniel D. Blais, Mrs. J. Arthur Hooper, Mrs. Richard C. Cabot, Mrs. Stephen H. Bennett, Mrs. Robert S. Sturgis, Mrs. Louise H. Adams, Mrs. Henry D. Ford, Mrs. James A. Garfield, Mrs. Alfred Bowditch, Mrs. Thos. J. Burgess, Mrs. George W. Harrington, Mrs. Nathan Horton, Mrs. Thos. J. Burgess, Mrs. William Putnam, Mrs. Joseph B. Hunt and Mrs. John H. Stone.

One of the most interesting engagements of the week, and in fact the month, is that just announced of that most cultured society lady, and pianist, Miss Margaret W. Bates of Commonwealth avenue, who is the charming widow of Mr. Charles W. Bates of this city.

After her marriage Mrs. Bates lived with her husband in New York until his death when she took her pretty little daughter and went to Europe where she has resided for the greater part of the time since. The romance came to its culmination there.

The wedding is to take place in Switzerland at the beautiful castle there of Mr. Bates' family.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bates are giving a dinner of eighteen covers this evening at their residence on Commonwealth avenue complimentary to their friends. Mr. Bates who is celebrating his twenty-third birthday. The party will certainly be a large house party of New York people.

The Law and the Crime

By JAMES J. MONTAGUE

The courts have decided that gambling at the race track is not gambling unless the bookmakers are supplied with all the paraphernalia of their trade.—News Item.

A BURGLAR came to me by night, the kitchen door and stealthily. He took the dollar eighty that completed my worldly wealth. A large policeman met him as he spoke his last farewell. Conveyed him to the station and inured him in a cell. But when we brought him into court, the Judge observed: "I saw No law on which to hold this man," and promptly set him free.

"A burglar," said the learned Court, "by all the legal rules, is not a burglar if he's not equipped with burglar's tools. He didn't have a jimmy or a blackjack, it appears—The badges of the burglar's trade for lot these many years—And, lacking these, you cannot prove a criminal intent. Wherefore, according to the law, this case is innocent."

NO LAW TO HOLD HIM ON. THEY'RE NOT EQUIPPED WITH BURGALAR'S TOOLS.

SHALL I LOCK 'EM UP, JUDGE?

A sounder set my house on fire; he clambered up the porch. Filled up some oil-soaked waste, and lit it with a torch. I hastily arose, from bed and donned a dressing gown. And gathered in the wretch, as he was clumping stably down. I hurried him before a judge, who wisely shook his head. Consulted two hide-covered juries, and, wisely averring, said: "I find in Upper Court Records, in Scarry versus Scatch, That in the act of arson there is mention of a match. No match was used, it is alleged, by this defendant here. And, therefore, as a consequence, his innocence is clear. Though evidence of his work on every corner gleam, His free to go forth from this court, the law must be supreme."

their family of Oakhurst, Westminster, Mass. The Waterbury family, who have lived in this city for many years, and will spend the winter here. The Waterbury family, who have lived in this city for many years, and will spend the winter here.

The British Ambassador, James Bryce and Mrs. Bryce, arrived in New York on the Western Hemisphere arriving to meet at the White House and dinner the house guests, Dr. Charles W. Bates of Commonwealth avenue, which is one of the best appointed homes in the city. Mrs. Bates will present her youngest daughter, Miss Marion Bates, at a large party which will be given on December 4. Later in the season she is to give several dinners for the young debutantes.

Miss Mabel Boardman, sister of Mrs. Waterbury Murray of Boston, and well known in the Boston Summer colonies, had a conference with President Taft recently. BARBARA REVISED. The story of Barbara Revise was told in simple language to the little folks, and then to make it more impressive the poem itself was read, with appropriate gestures.

The next morning the children were asked to repeat any part of it, or tell as much as each could remember. Best to repeat clapping his hand to his head, he said, in three weeks time, "I shall be a great big man," but spare your country's king," he said.

THE LAST RESORT. A youth (inspired by Shakespeare, N. H.) found one lot of beef and pork in a butcher's stall that was rather questionable, he called in the owner of the place. "Look here," he said, "what is your opinion of this meat?" The butcher looked it over. "I had forgotten all about that," he said. "It's pretty old stock."

"Well, what is your opinion of it?" "My opinion," said the butcher, "is that it is unfit for human food; but it would do for sausage."

GOLD DUST

This advertisement is only an imaginary one, but if it could be brought to the attention of every woman in the land who is unacquainted with the cleansing virtues of Gold Dust it would save untold labor and many an aching back.

Gold Dust is better than soap or any other cleanser. It does its work more quickly, more thoroughly and more economically. If you have been a slave to housework, let the Gold Dust Twins emancipate you. Gold Dust will enable you to do all your household cleaning in half the time, with half the labor, at half the cost. Its use means absolute economy, and to work without Gold Dust is to do work the hard way.

Buy a package of Gold Dust to-day, and learn the joys of housework rightly done.

Do not use Soap, Naphtha, Borax, Soda, Ammonia or Kerosene with Gold Dust. Gold Dust has all desirable cleaning qualities in a perfectly harmless and lasting form. The Gold Dust Twins need no outside help.

BOSTON AMERICAN

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, NOVEMBER 19, 1909

Go to the 1915 Exhibition; It's a Liberal Education

The American earnestly advises all its readers who have not yet seen the splendid exhibition that has been brought together in the old Art Museum building to go and STUDY CAREFULLY the remarkable display made there.

The gentlemen composing the 1915 movement have spent a great deal of time and money in getting this wonderful exhibition together. It is a LIBERAL EDUCATION to observe the progress that Boston has made and is making in the betterment of the city, and the marvelous things that are being done in other cities which, when carefully studied out, cannot fail to add new impetus to the great 1915 movement that is now under way.

You will be surprised at the vast improvement made in Boston within a very short time. You will be more surprised at the great improvements that are planned for the IMMEDIATE FUTURE. You will get an opportunity to study the progress and growth of cities in the United States. There is NO PLACE in all New England where you can spend so profitable an evening as in the old Art Museum building just now.

Again we advise all our readers to go there and study the exhibition.

Good Opera for ALL the People

The new Boston Opera House has been a revelation to the people of this city. The opera so splendidly produced clearly indicate that the Opera House and the opera season are to become PERMANENT AND FIXED institutions here.

No one knows the enormous disadvantages Mr. Jordan, Mr. Russell and their associates labored under in getting the opera house into shape for the opening night. And no one but Mr. Russell and his immediate staff of workers and singers know what tremendous and almost overwhelming difficulties they encountered in giving grand opera on the majestic scale that they did—a spectacle as lavish as can be seen in New York, Paris, London, Naples or Milan.

The opera season so far indicates beyond all question that it is going to be supported by the MUSIC LOVERS of this city. Some of the music critics have overlooked the fact that opera in Boston is a new thing, and at times they have criticized the performances rather sharply. They have seemed to think that opera in this city on its opening night should be as FAULTLESS as opera in New York, where it has been an institution for twenty-five years, or in London, where it has been an institution for fifty years, or in Paris and the Italian cities, where it has grown up and been fostered by the government.

They did not make any allowances for the opening of a new house, for the bringing together of a great orchestra and a splendid company of singers, and yet they have all admitted that the Boston Opera House and its singers have BLAZED A NEW PATH IN MUSICAL DEVELOPMENT.

Opera in Boston is not alone to be the toy of the idle rich. It has been made popular to appeal to musically inclined people, who love opera for itself and who are taking advantage of the low priced seats that they may have a real treat for themselves and their families. And yet the mountings of the performances, the costumes, the very large orchestra and all the other things that go to make up a great spectacle are as lavish as in any city of the world.

It cannot be too often emphasized that this new development in an operatic venture means a larger and higher MUSICAL DEVELOPMENT for the city.

The gentlemen who have so generously backed the opera house, and have brought together such a splendid company of singers should have the support of ALL the people. To be sure, there is at our opera house in Boston, as well as in every other opera house in the world, a display of beautiful women, dresses and jewels. All this is part of the operatic picture and it makes a splendid setting for the performance itself.

But it is NOT THE PLAN, and has never been, to make the Boston Opera House exclusive to the rich.

It is a musical, educational movement backed by men eager to help along the people of this city in this special line of development.

Another important thing that should not be forgotten is that the Boston Opera House is going to do its best to DEVELOP NATIVE American musical talent.

World famous American singers in the past have had to get their reputations in Europe before they would be listened to by operatic managers in America.

Foreign singers were given preference and all the advantages. American men and women with splendid voices had to go to Europe so that they might be heard in their own country. Nor did Emma Eames, our own Geraldine Farrar and dozens of others might be mentioned, who could not secure an audience with operatic managers in America until they had pleased the idle rich of Europe.

This is all to be changed at the Boston Opera House. There has been inaugurated what is known as "Debutante's Night," where young singers of promise, both men and women, are given the largest opportunity to be heard in some of the great operas.

The Boston Opera House is going to develop some of the GREAT SINGERS OF THE FUTURE.

The American looks forward to splendid careers for these young people, and we believe that the Boston Opera House will become one of the great schools for operatic instruction in the world.

Let the Salvation Army Alone!

Another fine example of the way Boston is GOVERNED TOO MUCH is the arbitrary action of the Overseers of the Poor, who have forbidden the members of the Salvation Army to solicit and receive contributions for their annual Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners to the poor.

THIS ACTION OF THE OVERSEERS IS NOT WARRANTED IN LAW, AND IS NOT WARRANTED BY PUBLIC OPINION.

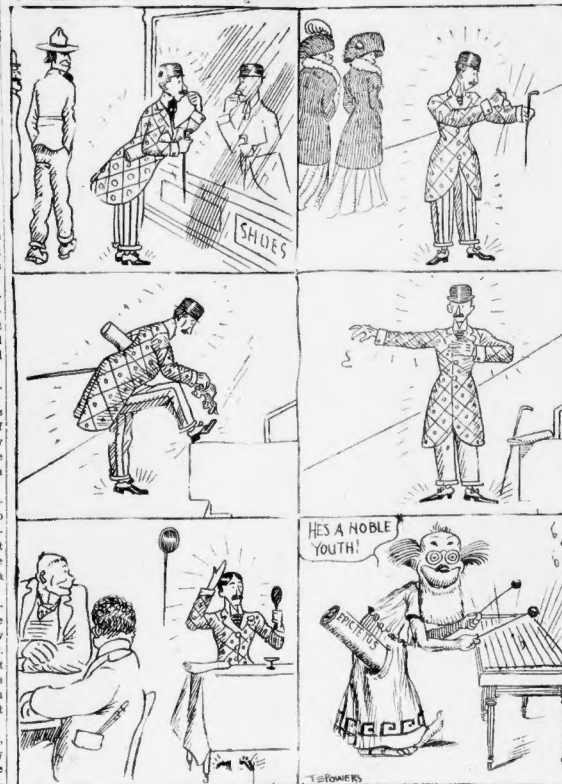

The Salvation Army, throughout the world, has done a work for humanity that can hardly be calculated. It has done work that even the churches themselves could not do. Its members have gone down into the gutters of slime and tenderly lifted up the fallen women. It has placed millions of helpless men on their feet. It has clothed them and fed them. It has made new creatures of them. It has done this work and ten thousand times more than could be enumerated in a newspaper article only for the glory of the Master.

and now for following out its annual custom of feeding the poor and hungry the Salvation Army is driven from the streets of our city by the Board of Overseers of the Poor!

Could anything be more absurd! Could assimilation go a step farther! LET THE SALVATION ARMY ALONE!

Judging the Good That Is in Others

Written for the Boston American

By Dr. C. H. Parkhurst

Copyright, 1909, by American Journal Company

WHEN men who have been a distinguished success in life have been seen to be generous and kind, it is not surprising to see true dollars, which are not counted in the visible clear around the world.

Judged From His Own Point of View

There is nothing that we are more disposed to do than to pass estimates upon the character of other people, and nothing that we are more poorly qualified to do. A man is to be judged from his own point of view and not from the point of view of some one else.

Each of us has his own ideal of character and action, known only to himself, and it is by that particular ideal of his that he is to be measured. That ideal is the outcome of his own history and experience, and that history is not easy to understand, and that experience it is not easy to get at.

We are constantly unfolding even ourselves, sometimes by underestimation, more frequently by overestimation, and if we would see our own character wrong that we have lived with all our life, how terrible it is that we should make much more and our blindness in judging estimates of other people, into whose real character we gain only occasional glimpses.

Scripture says that a tree is known by its fruits. That is true so far as far as trees are concerned, but only so far as far as men and women are concerned.

We sometimes do things that are better than we are, and sometimes things that are worse. Much of the joy of life is in the fact that we are not perfect. It is in human life that every human being is a certain fact, and it is in this fact that it is a fact. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid, but neither can a man's heart be hid. A man's heart is not a secret, and yet it is a secret. It is a secret that is not a secret, and yet it is a secret. It is a secret that is not a secret, and yet it is a secret.

It is generally conceded that the Boston American has a greater circulation than all the other Boston evening papers combined, and that it is as strong in Boston in the evening field as, for example, a paper of the combined strength of the Evening Journal and Evening World would be in New York City, or the Chicago American and Evening News in Chicago. -Advertiser's Magazine.
